

CALL FOR PAPERS

THE ROHINGYA CRISIS: A MULTIDIMENSIONAL TRAGEDY

24 AUGUST, 2018
ASIA CENTRE

WHO SHOULD SUBMIT?

Asia Centre invites Researchers who are investigating different aspects of the crisis

Submit abstract to contact@asiacentre.co.th

REGISTER NOW

contact@asiacentre.co.th

ABSTRACT

Current academic and policy discourse centers on the refugee crisis, on ASEAN's impotence, development as a solution and on accountability for wrongs committed. This call invites contributions that seek to delve deeper into this multidimensional crisis. It invites contributions from researchers who have been investigating different aspects of the crisis. Researchers of selected papers will be invited to participate in a one-day conference in Bangkok, to mark the anniversary of one of the largest humanitarian catastrophes in Southeast Asia. Selected papers will be compiled into an edited volume.

KEY THEMES

- ARSA : Unpack ARSA's role in the crisis.
- Development: Evaluate economic growth's role for values change.
- Elites: Dissect the elites' conflicting interests
- Fake News: Examine the role of misinformation in generating violence.
- Geopolitics: Capture the external global and regional power dimensions
- Hosts: Examine the role of Bangladesh and other destination countries.
- Human Trafficking: Identify illicit networks and their exploitative practices.
- Identity: Sketch the competing ethnic and religious political positions.
- Prejudice: Explain the inflexible attitudes against the Rohingyas.
- Rakhine Perspective: Articulate the majority-minority dimension.
- SGBV: Analyse the different sexual and gender based violence.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES FOR RESEARCH PAPERS

Researchers wishing to participate are invited to submit an abstract to contact@asiacentre.co.th. An initial 300 - word abstract should be sent to Dr, James Gomez and Dr, Robin Ramcharan.

Deadlines

Abstract Due:	28 March 2018
Full Papers Due:	1 June 2018
Authors Workshop:	24 August 2018
Submission to publisher:	30 September 2018
Date of publication:	First Quarter 2019

Participating Cost

A contribution of US$ 300 for conference and editorial costs only will be requested from all those selected to participate.